FUTURE LEADERS

STUDYING LEADERSHIP IN A DOCTORATE OF DISTANCE AND DIGITAL EDUCATION

Dr. M. Cleveland-Innes | Athabasca University | October 2018
DEVELOPING EDUCATION LEADERSHIP PERSPECTIVE AND COMPETENCE - APRIORI

- Doctoral level study of education leadership
- Opportunities to develop rigorous, detailed theoretical knowledge and skill application models in support of leadership in the field of education
- Examine requirements and evolution of leadership for distance, digital, and distributed learning across the globe
Change leaders at all levels of the university will have to grapple with both the content and process of change (p. 5).

ADDING ADJECTIVES
LEADERSHIP FOR EDUCATION CHANGE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Objective</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Demonstrate accurate knowledge regarding multiple leadership theories</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(objectives 1&amp;2)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apply leadership theory to social issues and/or education (objectives 3&amp;4)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Discuss and critique leadership in distance (distributed and digital)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>education (objectives 5&amp;6)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Review and apply project management techniques as a leadership function</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(objective 8)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Demonstrate higher order thinking skills in the evaluation and synthesis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>of leadership in distance education issues and/or initiatives (objective 7&amp;9)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Keepers of the Water

BRINGING VOICE TO STEWARDS OF THE ARCTIC OCEAN BASIN (AOB)

A DISTANCE EDUCATION AND LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

Norine Wark
EDDE 804
Athabasca University
March 23, 2012
Leadership in Mobile Learning

Connecting the Disconnected in Nepal

By

Susan Bainbridge
Yeung Sze-Kiu
Tony Tin

EDDE 804 Class Project
level of practical application of leadership in academic institutions, non-profit and corporate sectors has been notably increased from this course. This course has provided avenues for a definite increase in knowledge related to leadership theories, post-modern approaches in education, entrepreneurship culture, strategic planning, defining leadership in open and flexible learning, and future considerations related to global implications for distance education.
Fostering leadership that supports higher education reform ...

... and blended and online teaching and learning